

1. Consider a cylindrical core of radius R and length L . Assume constant material properties, and that the reactor is operating at a constant power of P MW.
 - a. Develop an expression for the flux as a function of position.
 - b. What is the maximum flux in terms of power and reactor properties?